EXECUTORS' SALE

The undersigned will sell on Friday, June 5, 1891, on the premises, one mile south of Minerva, in Mason County, all the real estate of the late James M. Hieatt to the highest eligible bidder. This property consists of one tract of land containing one hundred and thirty-seven acres. The land is well watered and in the highest state of cultivation, three-fourths of it now in grass. It is noted as first-class tobacco land, and nearly all of it is now in condition to produce as fine and as much tobacco per acre as any land in the county. There are six or eight acres of woodland, the fencing is first-class, being nearly all four wire picket or hedge. The other improvements consist of one two-story frame dwelling, containing three rooms and hall below and two rooms and hall above and two splendid cellars, summer kitchen, smoke house, hen house, carriage house, ice house, large and commodious stables and two No. 1 frame 40x60 tobacco barns. Fine orchard, good cistern and well, and abundance of good tobacco sticks.

The purchaser will be required to pay five hundred dollars down as an earnest of intention to comply with contract. Terms of sale further than this will be easy and made known on day of sale. Full possession will be given the first day of March, 1892. The purchaser will have privilege of seeding this fall. The undersigned will take pleasure in giving any further information, either written or verbal, and are ready at all times to show parties over the premises when called upon. Address all inquiries to Byar & Weaver, Minerva, Mason County, Ky. Sale at 2 p. m.

PAPAL ENCYCLICAL.

The Pope's Official Utterance on the Labor Question.

GUIDANCE FOR THE CHURCH.

Many Wise Words on the Relations of Employer and Employee—Each Have Rights Equally Demanding the Respect of the Other—Moral and Religious Aspects.

ROME, May 23.—The opening of the papal encyclical on labor dilates on the task which the pope has set for himself in defining for the guidance of the church its position towards existing social questions. It goes on to refer to the pressing importance of those questions and the difficulty arising out of their complex character owing to the numerous concurrent factors requiring consideration, yet a solution can be obtained by applying the eternal principles upon which the teachings of the church are based, now as ever. Men's relations toward each other as individuals or parts of society must have the sanction of old authority. The law is stated in Deuteronomy v. 21.

The divine law therefore rejects the Socialist solution, which would abolish private property, substituting a collective, common ownership. In proceeding to consider the relations of the state to the individual, the encyclical says: "To think that the authority of the state ought arbitrarily to invade the family intimacy is a great and pernicious error. The state can undoubtedly intervene when the condition of the family is too disastrous, but then only to alleviate it, and to safeguard the rights and interests of the public power without violating the rights of individuals. To go beyond these limits would be to violate the nature of things. The state should neither destroy or absorb the paternal power to reconcile the rights of the state, of capitalists, and the proletariat. We affirm unhesitatingly that human efforts are impotent without the concurrence of the church."

The encyclical goes on at length to recall all the church has done to better the lot of the proletariat, and to show that it is a capital error to believe that the church is for the rich alone, and an enemy of the people.

It is also a capital error to believe that the rich and the proletariat are condemned by nature to fight a duel without end. One has need of the other. Capital is powerless without work, and work without capital.

The proletariat cannot and ought not to injure capital or the masters who disperse it, but in order to obtain respect for the rights of labor they must abstain from violence. They should not have recourse to sedition or listen to the chimerical promises of the agitators. On the other hand, masters ought to respect the individuality and dignity of man. They should act as Christians toward their workmen, not treat them inhumanely, or exploit them beyond their strength. Let masters remember that both divine and human law forbids the drawing of profits from the misery of the poor. Besides that, religion means necessary co-operation of human means to attain a sacred purpose.

"The state ought to watch over the well-being of society, just as individuals watch over the purity, morals and interior order of families, safe keeping religion, justice, moderation and an equitable division of public charges, all of which would contribute largely to the amelioration of the conditions of the proletariat. The larger this general prosperity the less likely will workingmen be to have recourse to exceptional means to better their condition. As citizens the proletariat have the same rights as the rich, and consequently have a right to the same interest as being a part of the state. The government should carefully observe all obligations, distributing justice impartially. Absolute equality was, however, a chimera. The social hierarchies were based on natural principles. The state ought to see that all covenants relating to work were conscientiously observed, and oppose anything that might cause popular passions to yield to unhealthy excitement, provoking troubles and violence.

Small wages often gave rise to strikes, disastrous, not only to the working men and their families, but to the general interests of commerce and public industry. Government ought to prevent the explosion of such crisis. Moral dignity, which is equal among poor and rich, exacted repose from work on certain days. The state ought to take care that workmen do not become the prey of speculators and usurers, seeking to abuse their weakness, in order to obtain excessive and dishonest profits. Man's work should not be carried so far as to succumb under an excess of corporal fatigue.

The physical forces of every man are limited. Beyond that limit is forbidden to go. Therefore, expediency was shown in establishing certain limitations on working hours, and providing that they should be interrupted by a period of repose, varying according to conditions of time and place, the public health and the nature of the work. The question of wages was a particularly delicate one to treat with exact justice. The salary agreed upon should be paid; at the same time justice equally demanded that the agreement entered into by the workmen ought to be respected. The state should see these reciprocal obligations executed. An important element in the question was that the workman ought to be able, with the wages or salary, to provide for himself and families the necessities of life.

"In all these questions it is essential that state representatives should intervene considerably. It will suffice to reserve examination of these points for the judgment of associations. In order to safeguard the interest of both capital and labor the authority of the state ought to intervene only to the extent that the general interest demand. It is of great social advantage that the laws should favor a multiplicity of properties, as the best means of preventing opposition between extreme riches and extreme poverty; but it is also necessary that property should not be overtaxed. The state commits injustice and undue exactions from individuals.

"Institutions for aiding and facilitating conciliation between the various social classes are especially useful in obtaining desirable results."

The pope particularly mentions as worthy of commendation associations for mutual succor, societies for insurance against accident, sickness and death, and the protection of children, and especially female children, to which he attaches particular importance. The tradesmen's associations, and ancient corporations so useful in the past, ought to be adapted to present needs. Those associations would better answer the ends intended if they were composed of both workmen and masters. In that case they would develop usefulness more and more.

"When such associations act in such a way as to justify suppression the state ought in effecting such suppression, to use precautions not to violate the rights of individuals, and ought not to advance the public utility as a pretext for abandoning sound political principles. Unhappily it often occurs that such associations are used by wire pullers as puppets for exploiting poverty. It is important in such cases to create counter-associations in order to withdraw workmen from such impositions."

The pope greatly eulogizes those who are endeavoring to better the condition of the proletariat and establish bonds of mutual equity between workmen and masters, to maintain a sentiment of reciprocal duties, and to combat intemperance among workmen.

"We see with great satisfaction eminent men uniting in working for the common advance of their ideas, the efforts of others seeking to promote co-operation among the employers and the employed, the action of the bishops in encouraging these efforts, and finally the spectacle of rich Catholics acting as voluntary friends of the proletariat, and contributing with money to develop such associations. In the presence of the efforts of so many generous minds, we have no right to despair of our times. Let the state protect the right of legitimate assertion among citizens, but take care not to interfere with the internal order and life of such movements."

"The real condition of life is that it proceeds from internal movement. Exterior conditions ought only to facilitate pulsations having an internal origin. These associations ought to be administered by upright men, who in difficulties and crises will fulfill the role of equitable arbitrators. The conclusion of all these complete questions is that universal co-operation is necessary, and that everybody ought to help willingly under the auspices of faith and Christian morality."

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

The German Kaiser Very Much Irritated.

Germany and Russia—Other Items.

LONDON, May 23.—Berlin advises state the kaiser is deeply irritated by the tone and matter of the pamphlets recently published, especially the one entitled "The Kaiser His Own Master." The secret police are investigating to ascertain the authorship, and if it can be traced to Bismarck or any one else holding military rank a prompt and severe prosecution will follow. As it is, Bismarck will probably be questioned on his honor as to his connection with these attacks on the sovereign.

The kaiser, it is stated, has written to the Austrian kaiser assuring him of his continued friendship and his abhorrence of the attempts to detach Germany from Austria.

Germany and Russia.

LONDON, May 23.—The Berlin correspondent of The Standard says: "Count Muraviev, secretary of the Russian embassy here, has gone to St. Petersburg to continue commercial negotiations between Germany and Russia. Germany is willing to reduce the duties on Russian corn, petroleum, hides, and other raw products in exchange for reduced duties on German iron and manufactured goods. If successful, negotiations will result in a simple agreement, Russia objecting to a regular treaty."

Gladstone Entirely Recovered.

LONDON, May 23.—Mr. Gladstone's physicians having pronounced their patient entirely recovered, he left this city for Hawarden yesterday. A large crowd which had assembled at the station to witness the departure of Mr. Gladstone, heartily cheered the statesman as the train started.

Preparing for the Czar's Visit.

BERLIN, May 23.—The Cologne Gazette says that before the czar's visit to the Moscow exhibition a French squadron is expected at Cronstadt, bringing 20,000 rifles for the Russian army. French officers will accompany the czar to Moscow.

Queen Natalie's Friends.

BELGRADE, May 23.—The Liberals are organizing a meeting to protest against the expulsion of Queen Natalie as a violation of the constitution.

Duel in South Carolina.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 23.—A duel took place yesterday near Liberty Hill, S. C., between P. H. Cheatham and John Whately, both prominent planters. Bad blood had existed among them, and finally a challenge was passed. They met with their seconds at the appointed place and exchanged shots at ten paces. According to agreement, when the word was given, both men wheeled and opened fire, continuing to shoot until one or both fell. Cheatham fired eleven shots and Whately five. Both men received severe wounds, but none of them will result fatally.

THE OUTGO OF GOLD.

Its Great Effect Upon the Condition of Business.

A DEPRESSING INFLUENCE.

R. G. Dun & Company's Weekly Review of Trade for the Past Seven Days—Recent Rains Create a Marked Improvement in the Prospect of Crops—Business Failures.

NEW YORK, May 23.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: The continued outgo of gold, in spite of rose-colored assurances by eminent foreign bankers has a depressing influence. Stocks have been weak, though with a sharp rally Friday afternoon, and the produce markets are much depressed, and the fall in the prices of all commodities has been about 2.8 per cent. in two weeks.

The local money market is fairly supplied at moderate rates, as other eastern and western markets are, almost without exception, but at a few southern points money is close or tight, and much caution in extending credits prevails. The iron business is rather weakened at Pittsburgh by this prospect of increased supplies, and is very dull at Cleveland, but somewhat more demand is seen at New York and Philadelphia for various forms of manufactured iron. Steel rails do not share the improvement, and are flat, but there is more demand for plates, and bar which has been sold at $1.65 now commands $1.72 1-2.

The coal business is still threatened by production far beyond agreement, and prices do not seem to warrant the advance proposed for June 1. The woolen industry is waiting, without any improvement in goods to justify the demand for higher prices on new wool. At Boston the goods trade is not satisfactory, but sales of wool reached 2,299,600 pounds, several sales of new California, territory and other domestic kinds being reported, and the market is rather easy.

Trade at Boston has been quiet. Hides are dull with some concessions, and the boot and shoe trade is generally dull. Hartford notes fair trade. At Philadelphia collections are more satisfactory in drugs and chemicals, but very bad in groceries; extremely poor in paints, and unsatisfactory in jewelry. Dry goods trade is small, but a heavy fall trade is expected. Pittsburgh notes that railroad orders are held back waiting for crop results, and while window glass does well, flint glass has slack business.

At Cleveland dry goods, groceries, hardware and shoes improve fairly, but machinery, lumber, iron ore and clothing are dull. At Cincinnati the tobacco trade is brisk. Detroit notes good prospects, though margins are close. At Chicago dry goods sales exceed last year's considerably, as do sales of clothing, and there are very fair country orders for shoes; wool receipts gain over last year 50 per cent., corn 33 per cent., and dressed beef, cheese, butter and hides gain, but in cured meats there is a decline of 50 per cent., and in lard, flour and barley of 33 per cent.

Crop reports at Chicago are very satisfactory, and the same is true at St. Paul, Omaha and many other points where the recent rains have made wonderful improvement.

The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number: For the United States 214, Canada 40; total 254, as compared with 237 last week and 222 for the corresponding week of last year.

WRECK ON THE MONON.

Almost Miraculous That There Was No Loss of Life.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 23.—The north bound passenger train on the Louisville New Albany and Chicago railway, due here at 3 a. m. Friday, was thrown from the track three miles below this city by a broken rail.

The engine passed over safely, but the baggage, mail, smoker, day coach and sleeper were thrown down the embankment and completely wrecked. The escape of the passengers is almost miraculous. Not one was injured. The conductor was slightly bruised, and the colored porter of the sleeper had his hip broken.

No News of the Charleston or Itata.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Nothing has been received at the navy department from the cruiser Charleston, and the whereabouts of the Itata is still unknown here. It is almost certain, however, that the Charleston will not stop at Panama, as she should have reached there Thursday night and certainly Friday provided she met with no accident, and naval officers have now given up hope of hearing from her until she reaches Payta or Callao.

United Commercial Travelers.

DAYTON, O., May 23.—All jobbing houses, large shops and public buildings, hotels and many residences were decorated yesterday in honor of the assembly of the United Commercial Travelers of Ohio for the second annual meeting. After a welcome address by Hon. J. E. D. Ward, mayor of the city, and response, the grand council was called to order by Supreme Councilor J. C. Pease, of Columbus. The session will continue two days.

Three People Drowned.

PARIS, May 23.—At Beauvais, a small city on an island in the river Therain, yesterday, a pleasure yacht, with a family named Bonnard on board, capsized. Ten persons were thrown into the water and three were drowned.

The Same Old Story.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 23.—On the eightieth ballot last night, in the Democratic senatorial caucus, Call received 51 votes, Mays 43, Bloxham 2, blank 1. The caucus then adjourned until next Monday night.

THE Democrats will open the State campaign about June 10. They propose to make it lively all along the line.

THE Covington Post refers to Cassius M. Clay, Jr., as "Kentucky's most practical statesman." Please give Mr. Clay a rest. He needs it after making such a race as the one he just came out of. But what does the Post mean by "practical?"

From what we have heard of the late Con. Con., and from what we know of the Mason Court of Claims, the two bodies were very much alike in many respects. The Court of Claims frittered away lots of time wrangling over quibbles.

WE are glad to state that Dr. John M. Frazee is a candidate for Representative. His announcement appears elsewhere in this issue. He enters the race only after mature deliberation, and at the urgent solicitation of his many friends. It is not likely that he will have any opposition for the nomination. He served in the last Legislature with credit to himself and honor to the county, and he deserves a unanimous endorsement at the hands of the party. The Democracy will not make a mistake in selecting him for this responsible position, and the people of the county can not send a better man to represent them in the next General Assembly.

A CUSTOMER of Mr. Wanamaker's firm in Philadelphia recently paid for a letter copying book $2.75, for which he was only charged $2.10 last December," says the Cincinnati Post, "and with it came a note saying that the increased price was due to the McKinley bill. Ah, there! Mr. Wanamaker, you should put a bug in the ear of each member of your firm. You should be as imperative as the colored preacher who informed his flock that God made the first man out of clay and set him up against the fence to dry. A curious member wanted to know who made the fence, and he replied, "now dar, Breer Jones, you stop right dar. Another question like dat'll spile de bes' theology in de worl'." When you are defending protection, Brother Wanamaker, some one may ask you to account for that 65 cents rise on a $2.10 book. A very few questions of that sort would "spile" the best protection theory you could spin."

The Meaning of Free Coinage.

The National Stockman and Farmer having been frequently asked to define "free coinage of silver," wrote to the Treasury Department Washington and got this definition from the Director of the mint: "The term 'free and unlimited coinage of silver' means the conferring of the right upon individuals to take silver of any kind to the mints and have every 371 1/4 pure grains of it stamped free of charge into a dollar, which dollar is a full legal tender for its face value in the payment of debts and obligations, of all kinds in the United States."

In other words, says the Baltimore Sun, an ounce of silver, (480 grains) which can now be bought in the open market for 98 cents, is to pass, under the kind of free coinage now proposed for $1.29. A speculator who paid $98 for 100 ounces would get at the Treasury $129 in National currency, making $31 by the transaction. Or, to put it differently, with the silver at 98 cents an ounce he would get 100 silver dollars or silver certificates, for silver bullion costing him $75.79. The average cost of producing silver in the United States in 1886 was 51.1 cents per ounce. In Montana the average cost was 43.3 cents per ounce. The Granite Mountain mine in that State, according to the official statement of the Granite Mountain Company to the Director of the mint in 1886, produced 2,987,654 ounces of silver at a cost of 42 1/2 cents per ounce. In Mexico the cost is 44 1/2 cents; in South America, 34 1/2 cents; in Australia at the Broken Hill mine, 16 cents. Very large quantities of silver are produced at these figures.

THE Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association at the session in Frankfort this week elected the following officers for ensuing year: President, W. Chapman, Frankfort; First Vice President, J. J. Samuels, Paducah; Second Vice President, J. E. Hines, Paducah; Third Vice President, G. Holsman, Newport; Treasurer, H. Jett, Cynthia; Permanent Secretary, J. W. Gayle, Frankfort; Corresponding Secretary, T. J. Julian, Mt. Sterling; Local Secretary, O. W. Graves, Carrollton was selected as the next place of meeting.

FARMERS' HOME MUTUAL.

The Association in a Prosperous Condition—Cheap Insurance for the Farmers.

At the recent annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers' Home Mutual Aid Association of this county, the old officers and directors were re-elected, with one exception, Mr. Anthony Laytham, of Mayslick, being placed on the Board in place of the former member from that precinct.

Mr. J. D. Mayhugh, of Orangeburg, resigned as Solicitor, and Mr. A. D. Dickson was appointed to fill the vacancy.

One of the important orders passed was that no Solicitor be allowed hereafter to insure property when it is closer than one hundred and fifty feet to a building already insured in the association, unless the buildings all belong to one party.

Where a member of the association desires to drop the insurance on his dwelling and let it remain on barn and stable, the Solicitors are directed to drop the entire risk, and notify the Secretary at once.

The Secretary was directed to notify all the members in sufficient time before the August election to meet on that day and select one from their respective precincts to constitute the Board of Directors, the new Board to take the place of the present Board at the next annual meeting in May, 1892.

The annual report of the Secretary James E. Cahill shows that seven assessments were made last year, amounting in all to 90 cents on the $100. This total of 90 cents is the largest for one year in the history of the association, but it is still very cheap insurance. There have been twenty-four assessments amounting to $3.86 on the $100 since the association was organized twelve years ago. This makes the average cost 32 1/2 cents on the $100 worth of property insured.

While several members have withdrawn from the company, still the membership is now larger than ever before, and the association has more property insured than at any time in the past. There are 528 members at present, and the insurance now in force amounts to $702,565.

The association paid six fire losses last year amounting to $4,250, besides several wind and lightning losses amounting to $776.

"It is sometimes asked," says the Secretary in his report, "why we make an assessment of 20 cents to pay a $1,000 loss, and then only 10 cents to pay a $900 loss. The President and Board of Directors think it best to keep $200 or $300 in the treasury to pay small losses. When the 20 cents assessment was made there was very little in the treasury. When an assessment of 20 cents was collected there was enough left in the treasury, with a 10 cents assessment, to pay the $900 loss."

The Secretary's salary has been paid for the past year, and there is now $250 in the treasury.

W. Frank Cady.

This talented elocutionist will take part in the Knoll-McNeil entertainment at the opera house next Friday night.

The Trinity Times of Cincinnati says he is "gifted with that natural-born talent for elocution which is possessed by very few," and "whenever his name appears on a programme, the literary success of the evening is assured."

Mr. Cady formerly lived in Maysville, and has many friends and relatives here, all of whom will no doubt take advantage of the opportunity to hear him.

Enforce the Laws.

Many laws now on the statute books are a dead letter, either because the people are too dead to enforce them, or they are useless laws. It is decidedly bad to have such a state of things. Better have no laws than to be so loose in morals as not to enforce or obey the laws we now have. Good government consists essentially as much in enforcing the laws as in making them, and experience has amply shown that while all government operations, like all other human efforts, are imperfect, and all legislative work is very defective, that of the executive department is by far the most inadequate, inefficient and scandalous alike in the Nation, State and municipality.

What benefit does society secure from the enactment of good laws, if they are not enforced?—Exchange.

Here and There.

Mr. Bruce Holmes is home on a visit to his mother.

Miss Iva Bridges is visiting Mrs. Dr. Thompson near the Blue Lick Springs.

Miss Etta Everett is at home after a sojourn of a few months at Charleston, W. Va.

Dr. Harry S. Wood, representing Calvert & Brooks, Cincinnati, visited our druggists yesterday in the interest of the drug trade.

Mrs. R. J. Jones (nee Miss Bessie Thomas) of Etiwanda, California, will arrive this afternoon on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Geo. T. Hunter.

Miss Mollie Blanchard and Miss Fannie Whittington spent a few days with friends at Blue Lick Springs this week. They returned home to-day.

THE Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. of Indiana has instructed its representatives to the Supreme Lodge to favor "such amendment as will forever exclude any one who is engaged in any manner in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating drinks, and providing that any member of the order who is already so engaged shall be notified that he must either change his business or leave the order."

BABY IS SICK—The woeful expression of a Des Moines teamster's countenance showed his deep anxiety was not entirely without cause, when he enquired of a druggist of the same city, what was best to give a baby for a cold? "It was not necessary for him to say more, his countenance showed that the pet of the family if not the idol of his life, was in distress. "We give our baby Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," was the druggist's answer. "I don't like to give the baby such strong medicine," said the teamster. "You know John Oleson, of the Watters-Talbot Printing Co., don't you?" inquired the druggist. "His baby, when eighteen months old, got hold of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and drank the whole of it. Of course it made the baby vomit very freely, but did not injure it in the least, and what is more, it cured the baby's cold. The teamster readily knew the value of the Remedy, having used it himself, and was now satisfied that there was no danger in giving it even to a baby. For sale by Power & Reynolds.

THE COUNTY LEVY.

It is Fixed at 37 1-2 Cents on the $100, a Small Increase Over Last Year.

List of Accounts Allowed by the Court of Claims Yesterday, and Other Business.

Most of the Justices were present at yesterday's session of the Court of Claims. The action of the County Judge as to having jail sewer repaired was ratified. He was authorized to draw an order on the county treasury for $137.50 to pay for repairing said sewer, to be paid when the contract is carried out.

The order granting the Maysville Street Railway Company the right of way through the infirmary farm was amended so as to allow the company to place its track on the south side of the C. and O. road instead of on the north.

The sum of $30 was appropriated in hands of J. E. Wells for repairing two bridges on a county road in Murphysville precinct.

Messrs. Byar, Weaver and Vicroy were appointed a committee to report on the application of the Tuckahoe Ridge Turnpike Company for three-fifths of the cost of the construction of a branch of said road.

The following accounts were allowed:
R. C. Kirk, jailer's fees, $14 20
T. J. Curley's estate, work, &c., at Circuit Clerk's office, 3 00
Thompson & Burgoyne, room rent, 3 00
D. J. Reese, viewer's fees, 1 80
P. B. Owens, viewer's fees, 1 80
Isaac Woodford, robe for pauper, 2 50
T. M. Pearce, transfers, 100 00
W. W. Ball, transfers, 200 00
W. H. Hawes, room rent, 1 50
Langhorne Tabb, room rent, 1 50
S. B. Oldham, work, &c., at jail, 67 30

The County Superintendent was requested to use the school fund for lengthening the terms of school.

The rules were suspended and a sum of money equal to three-fifths of the cost of the branch of the Tuckahoe Ridge Turnpike was appropriated, to be taken as stock in said company.

The sum of $50 was appropriated in hands of County Clerk to have additional shelving placed in County Clerk's office.

The application of the city of Maysville for an appropriation to aid in building a new bridge over Limestone Creek was brought up at the morning session, but after hearing a committee from the city, the matter was postponed until the afternoon session. In the afternoon, 'Squire Vicroy offered a resolution appropriating $5,000 to aid in building said bridge, the bridge to cost not less than $18,000, and moved its adoption. The matter was discussed at length, after which a vote was taken, resulting in 8 yeas and 18 nays.

A motion was made to appropriate $100 to pay a pauper burying ground at Mayslick, but it was finally withdrawn.

Dr. John P. Phister was re-elected Jail Physician at a salary of $100 for services and medicines.

John Ryan, J. B. Furlong and John Craig were nominated for Superintendent of the County Infirmary. The ballot resulted: Ryan 13, Furlong 11, Craig 1, and Ryan was declared elected. His salary was fixed at $600 and matron furnished.

James Earnshaw, I. L. McIlvain, Jas. H. Grigsby, J. E. Wells, C. W. Williams were nominated for Board of Infirmary Directors. Messrs. Williams, Earnshaw and McIlvain were elected. Mr. Earnshaw was chosen Chairman of the Board.

'Squire Hunter was allowed $75 for services as Chairman of the Board of Infirmary Directors last year.

Dr. S. M. Cartmell was re-elected Infirmary Physician at a salary of $250, he to furnish medicines.

Ben D. Parry and the Union Trust Company were nominated for County Treasurer and Receiver. The vote resulted: Parry 18, Trust Company 8, and Mr. Parry was declared elected. The trust company, through its Secretary, W. W. Ball, previous to the election, offered to serve without compensation, and Mr. Parry stated he would also serve without compensation.

The same parties were nominated for Treasurer and Receiver of the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad Bond fund, and Mr. Parry was elected, the vote standing 16 for him to 9 for the company. His commission was fixed at 1/2 of 1 per cent.

The Magistrates outside of the two Maysville districts were allowed six dollars each for court room rent.

The officers of election for the elections last August and last November were allowed their pay, each at the rate of two dollars a day, and the Sheriff's of election were allowed the mileage for returning the poll books to the County Clerk. Each of the Magistrates was also allowed three dollars a day for services in attendance on Court of Claims.

A claim of the city amounting to about seventy dollars for cleaning sewer at jail was referred to the County Judge, H. L. Newell and J. H. Rains for settlement.

An apparent deficiency in the accounts of L. H. Mannen as Chairman of the Infirmary Directors a few years ago, was referred to W. W. Ball, J. F. Barbour and

R. K. Hoedlich for settlement. The County Attorney stated the deficiency was caused by some items being improperly charged to Mr. Mannen.

The following levy was made:
School fund, 15 cents on $100
Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad, 2 cents on 100
Bonds fund, 2 cents on 100
Infirmary fund, 5 cents on 100
Turnpike and Bridge fund, 5 cents on 100
Deficit Claims fund, 10 1/2 cents on 100

The road tax and pay for working ing roads was fixed the same as it was last year.

The poll tax was fixed at $2 on whites and colored.
The total claims and salaries allowed and appropriation made amount to about $10,300.

The levy above is 5 cents higher than it was last year. The total State and county tax is 80 cents on the $100.

According to the State Board of Equalization's figures, the total assessed value of property in the county this year is $9,798,477. At 42 1/2 cents on the $100 the State revenue due from the county this year is $41,643.52. At 37 1/2 cents on the $100, the county revenue will be $36,744.28, apportioned as follows to the various funds:

School fund, $14,697 71
M. and B. S. R. R. fund, 1,569 69
Infirmary fund, 4,899 23
Turnpike and Bridge fund, 4,899 22
Deficit claims fund, 10,288 40
Total, $36,744 28
State revenue, 41,643 52
Grand total, $78,387 80

CHURCH OF THE NATIVITY—To-morrow being Trinity Sunday the service will be appropriate to the day. Morning prayer and sermon at 11 a. m., followed by holy communion. In evening, after evening prayer at 8 o'clock, the Rector will give the third lecture in the course on the Lord's Day.

When you buy a pair of Shoes you make, on a small scale, what is just as much of an investment as though you bought a hundred shares of railroad stock. From this investment you look for a return. If the Shoes have not been misrepresented you'll get it; if they have been, you won't.

What we claim for our Shoes is that you run no risk when you invest in them—that it will pay you to buy them.

Why?

Because—
You get what you want;
You are never deceived;
You cannot be mistaken;
You'll always be satisfied;
The Shoes are right;
The prices are right;
And we guarantee it.

STRIKERS' WARNING.

Threatening Letter Received by an Indiana Capitalist.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., May 23.—John S. Brown, a local capitalist, expressed a willingness to go on the bond of the Midland Railway company, in its injunction suit against the strikers at Waveland, and Thursday night he found a letter on his front porch, which read as follows:

John S. Brown:

DEAR SIR—We have learned that you have lent your name to the Midland railroad for the purpose of beating a lot of poor men out of hard-earned money. If you think that those strikers have no friends in this town you are much mistaken, for some don't live far from you, and they are going to stand by Waveland. If you lend your name to that paper we will dynamite your house if it takes us ten years to quit even, and as for Anderson and Crane, they shall share the same fate, for by the living God, we will be revenged.

STRIKER.

Mr. Brown is not disturbed and says he will surely go on the bond, although he had not quite made up his mind to do so before. Anderson and Crane, the attorneys retained by the road, say they are not worried. The letter, however, has caused quite a stir, and the police are taking extra precautions against violence.

IT WAS DYNAMITE.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., May 23.—Edward Finnegan, foreman of the workmen employed when the recent disaster occurred, and who is now lying in the Provident Home hospital here suffering from the injuries he received in the explosion, in an interview yesterday said there was not any Ajax powder on the flat car. It was dynamite. He took the explosive from Ludlow, where it is stored, and put it on the flat car. There was also some railroad ties and a coil of rope ten feet long on the car.

Finnegan says he gave strict orders to the Italians not to smoke. When the train left Ludlow one of the Italians began capping cartridges. The cartridges are not capped by manufacturers. This is done by the men as fast as they are used. The man capping the cartridges was sitting on a box. He let one of them fall, and that caused the explosion.

John F. McCarthy, 20 years old, of North Tarrytown, another victim of the explosion, was buried yesterday.

Strange Case of Insanity.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 23.—Charles Heine is confined at the station house in this city under peculiar circumstances. He lost one of his three children Thursday and yesterday he was notified that the second could not possibly live, being fatally ill with pneumonia. He at once declared that he would kill himself and made preparations to do so. He secured a pistol, and taking his remaining child upon his lap, he caressed her and suddenly placed the pistol to his head and fired. The child saw the act and just as the pistol exploded shoved it aside and the bullet went wide of its aim. Heine was then taken to the station to prevent him from carrying out his threat against his own life.

Ended in Tragedy.

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., May 23.—Frank Turke, aged 40, who kept a small shoe store on Palisade avenue, quarreled with his wife, to whom he has been married but a few weeks, and finally shot her in the neck, inflicting injuries which resulted in her death in a few minutes. He then shot and killed himself. No cause is known for the tragedy. Turke buried his first wife about seven weeks ago, and engaged his second wife as house-keeper from an agency in New York. His first wife's mother committed suicide in Harlem several days after her daughter's death by jumping from a third story window.

Finances in Brazil.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Messrs. Flint & Company received the following cable from their Rio house: "Reorganization of the cabinet is about completed. Amedico Braziliense becomes minister of the treasury; Araipe, minister of the interior. No more changes are expected. Outlook of financial affairs is satisfactory. Exchange firmer."

Soldiers Shaken Up.

COLUMBUS, Tex., May 23.—Yesterday a train on the Southern Pacific containing three companies of the Fifth infantry, en route to Alabama, was wrecked and Charles Carter, a private from Santa Fe, was killed outright and four others fatally injured. The wreck occurred six miles from here. All the soldiers were badly shaken up.

Passenger Coaches Derailed.

TACOMA, Wash., May 23.—Four coaches of the Northern Pacific passenger train were derailed at Teanaway yesterday afternoon. Several persons were hurt, including I. Shinn, of New York; A. B. Schudder, of North Yakima; F. N. Burton, of Logan, Mont.; P. G. Longworth, of Weston, and H. H. Top-liff, of Tacoma.

Arrival of Immigrants.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—During April past 85,001 immigrants arrived in this country, against 64,212 in April, 1890. Of the immigrants arriving last month Germany furnished 22,755, Italy 13,128, Ireland 9,502, England and Wales 5,513, Austria-Hungary 8,709, Sweden and Norway 8,502, and Russia 4,252.

Not Settled Yet.

NEW YORK, May 23.—E. H. Ogden, secretary of the New York Lumber Trade association, issued a card yesterday, denying the report that the Lumber Dealer's association had conceded the demands of the walking delegates, and stating that no yards will be opened until a settlement is reached.

Insurance Company's Loss.

RICHMOND, Va., May 23.—Fire broke out late last night in the Union Brokerage company's building, and damaged the building and contents to the extent of $30,000; fully covered by insurance.

Damaging Hail Storm.

COLUMBUS, O., May 23.—Reports from Madison, Anguila and other counties show that a severe hail storm visited those sections, and stripped the trees of foliage and fruit.

OBSERVANCE OF SUNDAY.

An Appeal From "The Ministerial Union" of the City of Maysville.

WHEREAS, The word of God lays all Christians under obligations to observe the first day of the week as a day of worship and rest, and

WHEREAS, The Statutes of the Commonwealth of Kentucky enjoin upon all her citizens cessation from business and labor upon that day; therefore,

We, the undersigned, members of "The Ministerial Union" of Maysville, do most respectfully but earnestly appeal to all the citizens of Maysville, without exception, in the name of our holy religion and the law of our land, to observe, in a becoming manner, religiously and civilly, this guaranteed day of rest—by closing all places of business and abstaining from buying, selling, working and whatever else that violates the letter or spirit of the Gospel of Christ or the law of the State. In our effort to secure this we ask, and confidently expect, the co-operation of the officers of the law and all the religious and law-abiding people of the city.

NATURAL HISTORY.

EIGHTH PAPER.

THE OX---In the halcyon days of calf-hood he gambled on the green sward with the lambkin, or played tiddly-winks with the jolly kiddin on the grassy knoll, but does no longer. Or, mayhap, in happy sportive spirit, together they frolicked in the greenwood, or chased each other adown the lowland meadow; or, in youthful banter, dashed across the bluegrass "paster" to see which should take the Derby cup.

In his innocence and happiness little did he dream of his hard, hard, future lot. Soon he grows up into a great ox—a very engine of strength and a thing of awkwardness. He is now yoked for life—Buck and Berry together—not under the yoke of connubial venture, the bearing of which is an ideal of mythical origin, though tradition hath it that aforetime it was worn in much felicity, but now the times are agog with the query, is not this yoke a failure?

The yoke which Buck and Berry must wear for life is no failure, they think, for it never fails to settle down upon their necks at or before sunrise, nor is the heavy burden lifted until sunset, or sometimes their hard master does not remove the manacle, but the mates are kept neck-cuffed, except possibly on Sunday, and they would not be released then but their humane master fears the too constant wearing of the yoke might injure the poor brute for service.

At night, when Buck and Berry have had doled out to them and eaten their modicum of corn, they are turned aloft for the night, and when they have rested enough to allow it, they fall asleep and dream of the golden days of calfhood, or, maybe, of that which is to them like a fairy tale, so unreal does it seem, the story heard in days agone, of a yoke that is easy and a burden that is light.

When old Seed Corn gets up on Monday morning, even before the traditional bird that is said to eat worms, sans upper raiment, he flags his way to the stair-door and yells: "Jefferson Lincoln Stone-wall Hooker! Git up thar! Hyar its Monday mawnin', termorrer's Chewsday an' nex' day's Wensday, half the week gone, and not a lick struck," and in five minutes more you hear him in the barn-lot bawling: "Come yah, Berry: wo haw! Buck, come under hyah," as he holds aloft the dreaded yoke for their unwilling though obedient necks to which they bow, sighing for eight hours a day.

The ox is not as regularly "up" in speed maybe as the thoroughbred flyer, but you hitch Buck and Berry up to the ox-cart and go for a drive down the road, and let them get thoroughly scared. Well, perhaps you can ride as fast as they go, but you will change your mind about the quality of their speed if you can stick to the cart and keep your hair from turning white. He is better for mud than the mule or horse. A pair of oxen will pull a wagon through a chuck that two horses will stick dead fast in. We saw a drummer driving a pair of mules along a mountain road, keeping the middle as the safest at that season. He struck a chuck hole and stuck. His mules were powerless to move the load. He managed to unhook them, mount one and get out with them. He applied to a farmer near by who took Buck and Berry and pulled him out with little trouble. Before coming out the drummer secured a rail, and from the rear of his wagon set it down in the slough; on its top he fastened a piece of paper on which he had plainly written this inscription:

If you want to go to Hong Kong, keep in the middle of the road.
But if you want to go to Hazel Green, keep to the right.

He is an exemplary being in his habits. He is strictly orthodox in his religious views. He is worthy of imitation by his master, and if more men were like him than are, society would be in better condition. Never more would we behold the bayonet's portending gleam in the morning sunlight, nor hear the clash of arms on our mountains, or in our valleys; men would not avenge fancied wrong by the deadly bowie nor nations seek arbitrament in rage of battle. The pen would become the acknowledged sceptre of the world, and in wisdom calm and rule the passions of men. Our punishing and reformatory institutions would languish. There would be fewer widows and fatherless children. If there is anything in the idea of transmigration of souls, the ox has it "dead to rights," for his hide goes into the soles of men, making the true sole leather, which is used in making up the immense lines of Shoes manufactured for our's, the largest retail house in Kentucky, where we will save the buyer 25 cents on every dollar spent with us, and guarantee every sale.
